

The following guide aims to assist you in removing unnecessary apps in your Android device and I set Samsung as an example.

Before you proceed you must understand that by using the following method will remove the app from your user folder in Android NOT your system folder, which means you can do factory reset to restore back all the apps.

Other than resetting your device to factory settings you can restore some of the apps by going to the Play Store and install it back check out the id in this link:

<https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.facebook.orca>

com.facebook.orca = Facebook messenger

Let's say you input the uninstall command:
`pm uninstall -k --user 0 com.facebook.orca`

But after a while you want it back, if it appears in the Play Store you can install it back and no harm's done BUT if you attempt to install this APK from a 3rd party link that won't work & you'll have to reset factory your device to get it back so know what you're doing!

I'll NOT be held responsible for any damages you may cause to your device so proceed with caution and read it all out to understand what you're doing!

How to remove bloat apps from any Samsung device:

1. Go to settings and tap on About Phone > Software Information > tap on Build Number 3 times to enable developer options

In Developer Options enable USB debugging

2. Download adb:

<https://developer.android.com/studio/releases/platform-tools#downloads>

3. Plug in your device and on mac/windows drag the adb app to the terminal window but DON'T press enter yet!

These are the actions you can do:

shell (next to adb path name)

Will enter your device and from there you can input uninstall commands

devices (next to adb path name)

Will list your phone's name

pm list packages -f

Will list all the apps on your phone

4. Once you entered adb shell and see your device in the prompt line copy & paste to the terminal all of the following code to do the uninstalling automatically:

```
pm uninstall -k --user 0 com.facebook.appmanager

pm uninstall -k --user 0 com.facebook.system
